

WORK TASK

Duration: 2-4 days

Once the Business Requirements Document is completed, please prepare the Technical Specifications Document for the Proposed System and send it to us once finished. You can either share the actual doc or share the document link in Google Drive.

The Significance of having this are the following:

1. Shortens the development, it could make the development cheaper. Since it would be faster to work on the layout then time wasting is eliminated especially during integration.
2. Entire team can work on a project without confusions and any problems. Since it is already described, and new developers can understand the technical requirements without stress.
3. Process is much easier since everyone will be on the same page.
4. Offers developers with a precisely defined contingency plan. The chances of failure are minimized since the developer would know the requirements and therefore work within the plan.

Since we are going to use FreshDesk ticketing system, you can research more about it so it would be much easier to create the specification document.

Below are the most common components needed for the Technical Specification document.

1. Introduction
2. Description
3. System Features
4. External Interface Requirements
5. Non-Functional Requirements
6. Appendices

Please add more items in the TSD in addition to the ones mentioned above.
